

We swam ashore and climbed up the rocks. Mom raced from the house. "A hurricane!" she panted. "It's coming our way!" Our house could be blown right off its stilts. "Hurry up," Mom told us. "Pack quickly!"